Mrs. Salisbury's descent was from a long line whose prominence made the family one of the leading of Kentucky. Her father is the well-known authority on horses and the race track. He is a well-known writer, and publisher and his opinion is eagerly sought in racing circles the country over.

THE SHIPMENT IS SACKED

OFFICIAL CONFIRMATION OF RICH STRIKE IN THE BIG BONANZA—PRODUCTION FIGURES FOR AUGUST.

A ton and a half of ore worth ... is what is being saved and sacked in the El Paso mine, and will soon be sent to the smelter.

The statement is official, being vouched for by President A. E. Bernard, who gave out the information yesterday following the announcement by the Gazette that a rich shipment of ore was being saved and that when its returns would be received the public would be surprised.

"The fact that we have been saving this ore accounts for the reports that have got abroad that we are preparing to send out a fifteen shipment," said President Bernard yesterday. "While those figures are high it is true that there was some foundation for the report. We are saving a ton and a half of ore from the C. K. & N. vein that will return from $20 to $30 a pound, and the shipment of a ton and a half which we will send out will bring between $70,000 and $85,000. The ore is all being taken from the C. K. & N. vein between the 500 and 600-foot levels of the mine."

This official information will be received with a great deal of interest by the public, as the rapid advance in the ... has been little short of sensational and has occasioned much speculation. There is another important announcement also that bears the official stamp. The El Paso company has decided to maintain the two-cent dividend which it recently declared.

[illegible] ... monthly disbursement," said President Bernard yesterday. "We originally planned to pay an extra big dividend on Christmas as a special gift to stockholders, but have concluded to continue the two-cent dividend monthly instead. There will be no extra dividend ..."

OPPOSE REVISED VERSION OF BIBLE

HOUSE OF DEPUTIES OF EPISCOPAL CHURCH WOULD NOT CONSENT TO ITS USE IN CHURCH—AS DIVORCE QUESTION.

Boston, Oct. 19.—An attempt was made today by the committee on canons of the house of deputies to arrange a compromise between that body and the house of bishops. The bishops had adopted an amendment forbidding the remarriage of divorced people, while the deputies had declined to accept so rigid a provision, notwithstanding the fact that a majority of them took a stand similar to that of the house of bishops.

The committee on canons offered a resolution compelling divorced persons seeking remarriage to wait one year after the decree of the court for the solemnization of the ceremony. By this resolution, which referred to the innocent person in a divorce for infidelity, it was hoped to effect [illegible] a temporary agreement between the two forces. After some debate, the divorce issue was made a special order for tomorrow.

The deputies devoted a large part of the day to the consideration of a request from several dioceses for permission to use the revised version of the bible in churches. When the house was divided the request was refused by a majority in the house of deputies.

Bishop Potter, chairman of the standing committee on relations of capital and labor, presented a lengthy report which touched upon certain evils the committee found and discussed the industrial situation at length.

Thomas Stephenson and a response by Rev. E. [illegible] The convention sermon was delivered by Rev. Hilton Fish, after which the appointment of committees occupied the remainder of the evening.

PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD

ACCEPTS INVITATION TO HOLD NEXT MEETING AT TRINIDAD. INCIDENTAL DISCUSSION OF DIVORCE QUESTION.

Denver, Oct. 19.—The Presbyterian synod of Colorado devoted considerable time today in discussing the question passed upon the synod by the general assembly respecting a missionary who has been divorced and remarried before completing his missionary [illegible] and the matter of [illegible] and remarriage investigated and acquitted him of any amenability to the church law involved in the case. The general assembly questioned and reviewed the manner of conducting the investigation. It was decided by the synod today to make a full explanation to the general assembly and have its impression of the case corrected.

An invitation to hold the next synod at Trinidad was accepted.

"AS ANY COLD MAY LEAD TO CATARRH—PERUNA SHOULD BE KEPT IN EVERY HOME."—Dr. S. B. Hartman.

MANY people persist in riding on the street-cars insufficiently protected by clothing.

They start out perhaps in the heat of the day and do not feel the need of wraps.

The rapid motion of the cars cools the body ... When they board the car they are slightly perspiring. When the body is in this condition it is easily chilled. This is especially true when a person is sitting.

PRECAUTION BETTER THAN MEDICINE.

Beginning a street car ride in the middle of the day and ending it in the evening, almost invariably requires extra wraps, but people do not observe these precautions. Hence they catch cold.

NIP COLDS IN THE BEGINNING.

Colds are becoming very frequent in the ... oftener.

During the month of October no one should think of riding on the car without extra wraps.

A cold caught in October is liable to last the whole winter. Great caution should be observed during the month of October against exposure of cold, ... of the body ... to the lowered temperature when the liability to colds ...

PE-RU-NA PREVENT COLDS.

But, during the first onset of cool nights, the liability of catching cold is great.

No wonder so many people acquire muscular rheumatism and kidney diseases during this month.

... the nearest possible ... colds will be caught.

At the appearance of the first symptom, Peruna should be taken according to directions on the bottle, and continued until every symptom disappears. Do not put it off. Do not waste time by taking other remedies. Begin at once to take Peruna and continue taking it until you are positive that the cold has entirely disappeared. This may save you a long and perhaps fatal illness later on in the season.

TAKE PE-RU-NA IN TIME.

Mr. George Livingston, a prominent architect and builder of Los Angeles, Cal., writes from the Corcoran Office Building, Washington, D. C., as follows:

"I do not hesitate, when I see a friend or acquaintance suffering from a cold that is stubborn and threatening to become chronic, to recommend Peruna.

"It relieved me from a long and distressing catarrhal trouble and brought back the strength the disease had taken away. I recommend it as a cure and a tonic that cannot be surpassed."—Geo. Livingston.

Mrs. E. Schoder, 552 10th St., Portland, Ore., writes:

"I am pleased to testify to the wonderful curative value of Peruna in cases and colds and a rundown condition of the system. I took it for a cold which I could not get rid of, and in less time than a month it had cured me. I feel like a different person.

"I now take it when I am run down and in need of a tonic, and I find it excellent in restoring the strength. You certainly deserve success."—E. Schoder.

We have in our files thousands of letters from grateful people who have been cured by Peruna.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio, and he will give you the benefit of his valuable advice gratis.

OLD BOOKS LAUNDERED.

Public Library Puts Thousands of Volumes in New Dress Yearly. Odd Accidents to Books.

A large crowd on the first floor of the Chicago Public library building reminds one of a laundry with soiled clothes at one end and washed and ironed at the other. Two of these long, wide tables are covered with books, torn, frayed and dirty. Other tables and rows of shelves are filled with volumes just from the bindery, in spick, span, new clothes, with black, blue, green, purple, maroon or red backs, not as gaudy or as silly as in their original array, but ... solid ...

Last year 2,000 volumes were ... and rebound and this year 6,000 will be. Most of them are novels, an occasional history or work on practical arts feeling or lost in the ... works. Religious or pedigreed ... the ... leading seldom lasts more than six months. Big stout "denim" or plain ... of cloth is substituted and the leather backs instead of ... The thread is much stronger, and each "token," or cluster of pages, is sewed separately, so that the renovated book of this grade will last four or five times as long as it did in the original covers. Each new book costs an average of 55 cents and its new suit 25 cents, or, taking into account its longer endurance, about nine cents.

The chief damage done is the tearing of the leaves, the tearing of the covers from the leaves, the soil and the writing in them. The writing mainly consists of comment upon the book, either in praise or blame. "Lovely book." "Fine story." "Be sure and read it." "Isn't she ... " "I think Reginald is a splendid fellow." "Just the fine for anything." Adverse judgments are briefer and less explicit. "Bum" and "No good" sums it up.

These commentaries have all to be erased, which is sometimes made impossible by their being written in indelible ... the book provokes controversial ... sentiments. Books in favor of secession excite emphatic protests from Union readers. The history of "Belle Boyd," the spy, has been fearfully marked up with frank opinions of her secession proclivities. Protestants and Catholics also give vent to their sentiments in regard to each other's creed and conduct. So do those of socialistic or anarchistic beliefs when the rare chance of their presence in fiction offers. Frequently these voluntary commentators are satisfied to draw a line under the obnoxious text and set a question or interrogation mark in the margin. These expositions are generally in poor writing, bad spelling and bad English. Occasionally they are bitter, and even profane.

Two or three damaged books are kept as curiosities. One is a history by Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts. It was run over by the wheel of a street car and a hundred odd pages cut sheer across diagonally. Another is a copy of the United States Official Register, from which some one while in the library was able undetected to cut over 200 pages containing the list of postoffices and postmasters in the United States, probably for a mailing list. Many of the books are badly stained with the compound of mud and soot that overlays Chicago streets. When a book has been defaced or damaged, but is not yet far gone enough for rebinding, the one who draws it from the library after the defects have been seen, is protected by a stamped line reading: "Pages 145 to 158 of this book were cut out previous to June 15, 1904," or whatever the date may have been.—(Chicago Tribune.

POISON IN ORIENTAL RUGS.

A salesman employed in the rug department of a big Market street store died of blood poisoning the other day, and since then no one in the establishment is permitted to handle any new importations that have not been fumigated unless gloves are worn. The salesman in question had scratched one of ... position is that in opening a bale of rugs that had just come from the orient he had become inoculated with poison, which resulted fatally.

"It's a wonder to me," said a friend of the victim, "that such cases are not more common. I have traveled through Turkey and Armenia, where most of the rugs are manufactured on hand looms amid filth and squalor almost indescribable, where the most loathsome of diseases are everywhere in evidence. These products, while beautiful from an artistic point of view, may readily carry germs ... spread all sorts of horrible contagion.—(Philadelphia Record.

"And then I pumped, and the awful thing I heard—"

DOCTOR CHARGES BLACKMAIL, TELLS OF MRS. ONG'S VISIT

Salida Physician Says He Threatened to "Break Attorney Murray in Two With a Chair," Sensational Day in Court.

The Ong-Cochem case was continued in the district court before Judge Lewis and a jury of 12 men all day yesterday, and at 5:30 in the evening not all the testimony was yet in.

Mrs. Ong's cross-examination was concluded in the morning and then one or two witnesses were put on to testify to minor details corroborating Mrs. Ong's testimony, but none could testify directly to the charges made against Dr. Cochem.

The defense then took the stand, Architect Silf being the first witness. He described the location of the rooms in the building where the assault is alleged to have taken place and stated that the slightest outcry or noise could have been heard by anyone in the adjoining rooms.

Dr. Cochem then took the stand in his own behalf. He absolutely denied his guilt and charged Mrs. Ong with attempting to blackmail him. He stated that she had visited him at Salida and tried to get him to "buy her off" from bringing this suit. He stated that he had not gone beyond the limits of a physician's profession in treating Mrs. Ong's case.

The doctor had difficulty in controlling his feelings as he testified. He denounced all Mrs. Ong's allegations as lies and expressed wonder that a woman could swear to lie so adeptly, as he put it. He stated that Attorney Murray, of the firm of Stuart & Murray of Denver, had visited him in his office at Salida and had offered to straighten the matter out with Mrs. Ong for a certain sum of money, to which the doctor responded with vehemence, he said. He said Mr. Murray told him that he (Murray) had the power to save or blast his reputation. Dr. Cochem testified that he then told Murray to clear out of his office or he'd break the lawyer in two with a chair. He said he told the lawyer that he would not listen to blackmailing schemes.

The defense is charging strongly that the suit has been brought merely to get some "easy money," and in this connection the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Ong have been living together as man and wife all the time, and that her husband has taken her out driving on several occasions and there has been no apparent falling out between them is being urged by the attorneys for Dr. Cochem in support of their contention that there has been no alienation of affections.

There are three or four more witnesses yet to be examined before the arguments are started. The case will probably not get to the jury until Friday or Saturday.

The court room was crowded all day yesterday, as the case is of a sensational nature, and the attorneys concerned are among the leading men of their profession in the state and they are using all the talent they possess in trying the case.

COLLEGE STUDENTS LINING UP FOR LAW AND ORDER POLICY

The student body of Colorado college and Cutler academy was addressed yesterday noon after chapel by several Republican speakers. Their remarks called forth the enthusiasm of the undergraduates, and were roundly applauded.

Hildreth Frost, a prominent alumnus of the college, took charge of the meeting, and told why it was called. He [illegible] Kerr, candidate for county judge, who told the students that their education, their ideals and their ethics should be called into play in the political life of the country. He told them why they should join the Republican party, the party that does things, the party of the past as well as of the future.

"You can do no better than to join the Republican party," he declared and the outburst of applause that followed showed that the sentiment was reflected.

"In Colorado it is the question of law and order against anarchy. Will you ally yourselves with that organization that is trying to overthrow the government of the state and overrule the law, or will you join the forces of law and order? Would you rather go back to the scalping knife of the savage and to life with the rifle, or have civilization? If civilization is better than savagery, you will stand with the forces of law and order."

[illegible] the young men the more definite effects of the meeting. He told about the big flambeau parade next Tuesday and asked for a large delegation of men from the college to form in the line. He also urged every man to see to his registering, and those who live out of town to make arrangements to go home and vote on November 8.

In the name of the flag, Mrs. E. C. Goddard urged both young men and young women to show their loyalty to it, to the state and to the nation by standing for the Republican party.

The new building is being erected by Winkler and Arnold of the General Realty-Insurance-Loan agency to be occupied by them as a branch office.
